

Title VI Program Performance Report (PPR): Summary of Key Changes

The table below contains all data elements included in the new Program Performance Report (PPR). Instructions on how to use the table are as follows:

- PPR Section: This column helps describe where each data element is located in the PPR.
- Data Elements for the New PPR: This column contains all data elements required for the April 2020 to March 2021 Reporting Cycle. You should collect all data elements listed in this column beginning on April 1, 2020. If a data element is not listed in this column, it is not required to report on the new PPR.
- No Change from Old: If this column is marked, the data element is not changed from the old PPR. These data elements are required for the April 2020 to March 2021 Reporting Cycle.
- Added: If this column is marked, the data element is new to the PPR. The old PPR did not require this information. These new data elements are required for the April 2020 to March 2021 Reporting Cycle.
- Changed Element from Old PPR: If a data element from the old PPR is listed in this column, the element has been changed for the new PPR. In some cases, the unit of service is changed. In other cases, the definition of the data element is changed. If a new PPR element is changed from an old PPR element, you should look up the new definition. The PPR Definitions document contains the new definitions and is posted to the OAAPS Resources webpage.
- Removed: If a data element from the old PPR is listed in this column, the data element is not part of the new PPR. Beginning April 1, 2020, data elements in this column do not need to be collected for the PPR.
